

Scope....

CSIR-Central Salt & Marine Chemicals Research Institute (CSIR-CSMCRI) Bhavnagar is a constituent R&D laboratory under the aegis of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), New Delhi. CSIR-CSMCRI is known for its contribution and achievements in the area of Membrane Science, Catalysis, Inorganic Materials, Phycology and Waste Management processes. The Institute also works on the development of different electro-active materials for energy conversion and storage, sensor and membranes for fuel cells as well as other energy devices, pervaporation membranes, gas separation membranes etc. and has developed technologies on electro-active membranes and cost effective plastic electrodes. In September 2018, CSIR-CSMCRI in association with Indian Society for ElectroAnalytical Chemistry (ISEAC) is going to organize a two days national symposium on "Electrochemistry in Materials and Devices" to assemble researchers, academicians, techno-crates, and industrial personals of this field from all around the country under one umbrella. The event will focus on the most recent innovations and real challenges of electrochemistry and electro-active materials, including inorganic, organic, polymeric and nanostructured materials for

- Battery • Sensor • Super-capacitor • Electrocatalysis
- Photoelectrocatalysis • Fuel cells • Electrodialysis
- Electro separation • Corrosion • Electro deionization
- Chlor-alkali
